DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

As per claims 1, 21, and 25 the closest prior art of record Williams et al. US 6,016,484, Paltenghe et al. US 2001/0011250 A1, Gutman et al. US 5,221,838 taken either individually or in combination with other prior art of record fails to teach or suggest upon receiving an indication that a user wishes to finalize a transaction at the merchants web site, comparing the information in the user's electronic wallet with the information in the merchant's electronic wallet and if there is a difference, replacing the merchant's data with the data from the user's electronic wallet.

The specific allowable feature, which distinguishes the present invention over the prior art is comparing the information in the user's electronic wallet with the information in the merchant's electronic wallet and if there is a difference, replacing the merchant's data with the data from the user's electronic wallet. The uniqueness is that the prior art does not have a comparison step and automatic replacement of data if the merchant's information is different from the user's information. The closest art shows adding information if it is missing but not comparing and replacing if different.

Claims 2-12, 16-20, are dependent upon Claim 1 and thus have all the limitations of claim 1 and are allowable for that reason.

Claims 22 - 24 are dependent upon Claim 21 and thus have all the limitations of claim 21 and are allowable for that reason.

Claims 26-36, 38, 40-44, are dependent upon Claim 25 and thus have all the limitations of claim 25 and are allowable for that reason.

Conclusion

1. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- 2. Williams et al. US 6,016,484 discloses the different types of transactions that can be done utilizing electronic wallets.
- 3. Gutman et al. US 5,221,838, discloses the use of electronic wallets utilizing wireless methods.
